Oberammergau Passion Play - The original performance dates back to 1634. During the Thirty Year War, the village of Oberammergau was spared the Black Plague and for this reason, the villagers vowed that every ten years they would give a play to honor the life of Christ. The performers are native Oberammergauers. To lend authenticity to the performance, the cast start to grow their hair and beards more than a year in advance. Also, the intricate costumes are made locally by the villagers.

The American novelist Thomas Wolfe concluded that Munich is a "German dream translated into life" ~ and the description seems especially apt during Advent, when the capital of Bavaria turns into a three-dimensional Christmas card. Countless holiday markets crop up around Germany during the holiday season, selling hand crafted ornaments and creche figures, candles, wood-carved toys, and traditional objects associated with the season. ~1,000 Places to See...A Traveler's Life List, Patricia Schultz, p.155.

Experience It! . . . . Monteverde Cloud Forest

There are only four places in the world with an ecosystem so unique that it produces a cloud forest. The Monteverde Cloud Forest in Costa Rica is one. Situated high on a mountain, the cloud forest is created when the arid air from the forest below the mountain combines with the moist, hot air of the rainforest. The result is a blanket of misty, wispy clouds that linger low in the forest, making it feel as if it were raining. This rare environment breeds a diverse world of exotic flora and fauna. One of the cloud forest's most famous residents is the endangered resplendent quetzal. A remarkably colorful bird, this creature sports a golden beak that protrudes from a green-hooded head. The breast is a vibrant scarlet and the tail feathers are gray, black and white. A highly elusive bird, quetzal sightings are rare but absolutely unforgettable.
